Avoiding the Void

The aftermath of a breakup. How can one survive?

This zinema/folk film/underground movie was created in secret with a budget of $502 ($500 to pay for the music and $2 to buy the camera. Alan's music was worth way more than that, but he's a real one and hooked it up).

I don't see any copyrights on this. Do you?

Warning: This film contains flashing lights and colors. Also you probably shouldn't show it to children, but hey, do whatever you want.
